BORING FOR OIL PROGRESSES

Prospects Good For Striking Oil on Robinson Creek. Drilling Continues Rapidly

Few people about town know that boring for oil is progressing rapidly on Glazier creek, a half mile south of Robinson creek. Well, work is going on and has been in progress for the past few weeks, and the best of indications exist for striking oil in large quantities. The Robinson Creek Development company have leased four thousand acres of land in and around Robinson and Glazier creeks and have decided to make a thorough test to see if there is an oil strata in this vicinity.

The company is composed of Petaluma people and they have gone about their work quietly and with a determination to make a thorough investigation. The officers of the company are as follows: President, J. B. Dickinson; Vice Pres., W. C. Stradling; Secretary, Wm. Schoenigh. They have secured the services of H. H. Hayes, a driller of experience, and Wm. Finley, an assistant. A. M. Palmer is the engineer. All of the men have had a great deal of experience in oil fields and they say that oil indications are splendid. The shale and sandstone continues on down as the drilling proceeds and the indications increase. Work has been in progress for nearly three weeks and the well is bored to a depth of about 120 feet, each day of work adding about 10 ft. to the dpeth. The gentlemen connected with the work feels sanguine of success. W. P. Mariner took F. C. Albertson, J. B. Sanford, Dr. Bowles and Charley Bartlett out to the the well last Tuesday and all were favorably impressed with the situation.

MUCH INTEREST IN AUTO RACES

Six Automobile Races and Special Events for Saturday and Sunday

Santa Rosa Sept 24.—The Santa Rosa Automobile Association has secured as a special attraction for Sunday afternoon's races the Mitchell military car, the one that arrived in San Francisco a few day ago, bearing message from Gen. Wood to Gen. Weston of the Presidio. The car will come just as it arrived at San Francisco and will give a five mile exhibition.

There will be six automobile races and some special events on Saturday and Sunday afternoons. On Sunday the North Western Pacific railroad will give a special rate of one way fare for the round trip for all points north of Santa Rosa to Ukiah. An immense crowd of spectators and great racing is expected on both days.

Deer Season Not Shortened

At the meeting of the board of supervisors the ordinance which was passed at a previous meeting shortening the deer season was repealed. This was on advice of the Distrct Attorney who thought that the ordinance was unconstitutional and that convictions could not be secured under the ordinance. The deer season in this county will now close on Nov. 1st as per state law, and the hunters will still have a month or more in which to kill the "antlered monarchs."

Neep to Piver

To Albert Piver: I have retired from the prize ring and am leading the simple life and you konw it. There is nothing doing. You never could fight. I have licked you twice; that's enough. Go get a reputation.

Grover Neep.

Ralph Duncan and Miss Iris Orene Clare will be united in marriage in San Francisco on Oct. 3rd. Ralph is a Ukiah boy and is the son of Mr. and Mrs C. H. Duncan. He is now a prominent druggist in the metropolis.

SUBSTANTIAL STREET WORK

Trustee Smith is Having Good Work Done on East Perkins Street Near the Depot

Much satisfaction is expressed with the excellent work now being done in improving Perkins street from Main street east toward the railroad track; also with the inexpensive method by which it is being done. Gravel is being hauled from the bed of Gibson creek and deposited in the low part of the street to a depth of one to three feet; the labor being performed by prisoners from the county jail. After a sufficient quanity of gravel has been placed on the ground, the scraper will be put on and the street nicely rounded up, with a good slope toward the gutters on each side, and the grade brought up to the proper level. In a short time the heavy traffic over the street will pack and harden the grave and it will be the best street in town, instead of almost the worst, as it has been heretofore. This improvement, while costing but little, will be permanent; so let us join hands with the street committee, and Bud Smith in particular, and say, "Let the good work go on."

CAVALRY TROOPS ON THE MARCH

Arrive Here Yesterday Morning on Vacation Trip and Go South This Morning.

Troops E, F and H, of the Fourteenth U. S. Cavalry, arrived in this city Thursday afternoon and went into camp on a vacant lot near the Grammar school building. The troops left San Francisco on the 12th inst. for a 21 days' practice march, and in that time must cover 250 miles. About 150 miles of the distance had been traversed on their arrival here. The regiment is stationed at the Presidio, in San Francisco. Major Scott is in command of the detachment. which is composed of 195 men in addition to a signal corps of seven men. The troopers travel with regulation marching equipment just the same as in time of war. They left for the south this morning, and will arrive at the Presidio October 3. They came from Lake county yesterday, where a stay of four days was made. The officers of the company were entertained last night at the Palace hotel by the citizens of the town and a very enjoyable time was had.

Building a Fine House

Work was commenced last week on N. A. Barnett's new dwelling in Centreville, Potter valley, and it is expected that the house will be competed by about October 15th. Sam Orr, the well known architect, drew the plans and has charge of the work, having selected his crew of men from Ukiah—Jeff Owen, John Owen, Dan Cook and Ben Horr. When completed, this will be one of the finest dwellings in the valley; large and commodious and up to date in every way. Mr. Barnett, who is bookkeeper for the Irvine & Muir store, is to be congratulated as a wide awake, public spirited citizen, and for the faith he displays in the future of Potter valley by investing his money in this way.

Popular Pastor Returns

At the Conferenece of the M. E. Church held at Pacific Grove this week, the Rev. J. W. McAllister was returned to the Ukiah St. John's church. The reverend gentleman filled the pulpit here last year and gave good satisfaction and his parishoners are glad to have him returned.

O. L. Stanley came over from Lakeport Tuesday evening and departed for Mendocino Wednesday morning. His health is much improved and he has fitted up a nice little job office in Lakeport and is doing well. His many friends in this county will be pleased to hear that he is on the road to recovery.

NEAT OPORATION BY DR. S. L. REA

Successful Operation on Mrs. Tom Moore For Appendicitis. Patient Doing Well

Mrs Tom Moore, of Oakland, was operated on successfully for appendicitis this week by Dr. S. L. Rea at the Dr. Malpas hospital. The lady had come from Oakland with her husband who was working for Bob McGarvey in the hop kiln. She was taken with appendicitis and Dr. Rea was called, who at once saw that she could not stand the long trip to the city so he prepared for the operation here and took the sick woman to the Malpas hospital. He performed the operation, assisted by Drs. Malpas and Liftchild, Dr. Van Allen giving the anaesthetic. The appendix was badly swollen and was gangrened and it took 2 hours and 15 minutes to perform the operation. The patient is getting along splendidly and will be out in another week. It is no longer necessary to take sick people all the way to the city for operations, as the work can be done here safely and just as well.

IMPROVEMENTS BEING PLANNED

Supervisors Fix Tax Rate to Permit of Much Permanent Road Building Next Year.

The board of supervisors met this week and fixed the tax rate at $1.90 on the $100. The board are all business men and are large taxpayers and believe in being up to date. They realize that the way to save property is to take care of it and as many needed repairs are contemplated the rate was fixed to permit of this. The people want good roads but it costs money to build them. Several new roads and a number of new bridges are needed badly, so the rate will permit of these imperative improvements. Some of the new impovements contemplated are as follows: New buildings at the county farm, repairing and repainting old ones; new road to Boonville; new road from Willits to Long valley down outlet creek (part of which is built); new roads and grades and bridges on the coast.

The people will welcome this movement to build permanent and substantial highways throughout the county.

New Road to Boonville

At the meeting of the board of supervisors last Monday it was decided to build the proposed new road to Boonville at the earliest possible date. There are no nonconsenting land owners along the proposed route and the report of the viewers was adopted and the road as viewed out by them was declared to be a pubilc highway. At the meeting in October, bids for the construction of the road will be advertised for, and work is expected to begin at once. Supervisors Smith and Lawson are to be congratulated upon their enterprise and good work in this matter.

Favors the Boonville Road

Bowlin Hiatt, one of the successful young ranchers of Boonville, was in town Monday on business. He was greatly elated to learn that the proposed new road to Boonville is soon to be a reality, and says that it means a great deal to that section of country. He thinks Supervisor Lawson is making good every day, and says the building of this new road shows what a live supervisor ca do for his district..

Mrs. Maud Faudre Improving

Mrs. Maud Faudre, who was shot last week by her husband, and who afterwards killed himself, is gradually improving under the care of Dr. W. A. Whitlock, and the Doctor has hopes of her ultimate recovery. The young woman still has two bullets in her, but is rallying despite this.

HARRISON STABS HORR

Almost Fatal Cutting Affray the Result of Family Difficulties. Injured man Reviving

Fred Harrison stabbed Bert Horr severely last Tuesday in Gravelly valley, and for awhile it was thought that Horr would succumb to the wounds. In fact it was reported here several times that he was dead.

As near as can be ascertained the row seemed to have started over some family neighborhood gossip that had been going on for several weeks. The men met and the matter was brought up, finally ending in a scrap. Harrison pulled a knife and stabbed Horr just below the heart cutting a frightful gash. Henry Day was also silghtly injured in an effort to take the knife away from Harrison, but succeeded in his effort. A physician was sent for and dressed Horr's wounds, and while the injured man is weak from loss of blood, it is thought he will survive all right.

Both men are well known here as law abiding citizens and the unfortunate occurrence is regretted by the friends of both alike. Harrison was the Socialist candidate for the Assembly in 1906. Sheriff Kemp, of Lakeport, has placed Harrison under arrest.

UKIAH CANNERY DOING BUSINESS

Drying Pears and Canning Tomatoes Rapidly, and Turning Out High Grade Products.

The Ukiah cannery shipped 876 cases of canned Bartlett pears this week. The fruit is of last year's pack, but is pronounced by experts to be of superior quality, and will command a top-notch price in the San Francisco market.

The cannery has dried 53,000 pounds of Bartlett pears this season, and will commence next Monday to can about 200 tons of tomatoes. All of the products of the cannery are of the best grade which enters the markets and bring prices equal to those of any other section of the state, while the Mendocino foothills produce the finest fruit in the land and there should be no reason why it should not be more extensively grown, and be the means of bringing good profit to the growers.

Will Begin Work at Once

According to the latest news work will commence on the extension of the railroad from Willits north to Eureka at once, at both end of the line. Several contractors passed through town this week and from what we can learn work will start as soon as the necessaries can be secured. Contractors are making inquiry about securing stock for the work and are offering $20 per span a month As was stated last week $2,000,000 has been appropriated for the purpose for immediate use.

An Ambitious Young Man

Grover McGimsey was over from Boonville this week on a business trip. He is inclined toward journalism and is issuing a monthly booklet entitled "The Unique," a magazine of inspiration. He has also written a song production entitled "Where the Lilac Blossoms Wave Beneath the Hill." This has been set to music by Zura Bells, of Oakland, and will be sung by Richard J. Jose in New York. The young man has ambition and perservance and will no doubt succeed.

Mighty Hunters

Henry Hopper and Al Malpas are out in the high brush enjoying a hunting trip. A wireless message from the scene of carnrge states that the boys had beaten Teddy at his own game by killing an ornithobincus and a monododedihee in mortal combat. Those desiring a slice of choice diabrotica punctata leave orders at any old place and they will be attended to promptly.

BIG DEALS MADE IN REAL ESTATE

English Ranch in Redwood Sold For $17,500. Ford Boys Also Sell Their Ranch

There has been some movement in real estate during the past few weeks, all of which indicates a revival in business. The largest deal was the sale of the Bill English ranch in Redwood valley for $17,500 to Mr. Howard Drury Melone of Humboldt county. This ranch consists of about 1500 acres of land and is the bset ranch in that valley. The sale was made through J. A. Waldteufe, W. P. Thomas representing the English heirs. Mr. Melone is negotiating to buy the remaining year's lease from Frank McCracken, and if successful, will move his family here at once.

E. M. Ford and W. A. Ford sold their hop ranch, Redwood valley, this week to W. D. L. Held for $16,000. The ranch consists of 350 acres of land of which 100 acres is valley land, 35 acres being in hops. The Ford boys bought this land a few years ago for $8,000, and have been getting $100 a month rent for it. The land has thus doubled in value in the last five or six years. The sale was made through the agency of Poage & Ford.

Mr. Waldteufel also sold the C. H. Lorenz place in Redwood valley to Z. H. Conway, of Wyoming, for $5500. There are 110 acres in the ranch.

T. J. Cooper and H. H. Whisler have rented the McClendon ranch in Redwood and will soon move onto the premises. These men also have another ranch rented in that vicinity.

WOODSMEN HAVE WHOOPING COUGH

Eighty Men in the Rock Pile Section Are "Whooping it Up" These Days

Word comes from the southwestern part of the county that an epidemic of whooping cough had broken out in the tanbark camps on Rockpile creek between Yorkville and Gualala, and that the camps have almost had to shut down. In one camp 80 workmen and all the women have been suffering from the cough. Old women 70 years old have taken to it like kids, says a correspondent. Such an epidemic has never been known before, and all hands are "whooping it up" to beat the band.

Boxers are Training

Jack Evans came up from Oakland this week and has gone out to Riverside where he has established training quarters for his bout with Jack O'Keefe on the 2nd of October. O'Keefe is expected here to day and will go into training in the Athletic club's training quarters in this city. These men are the classiest fighters that ever appeared here and the sports are all looking forward to the time with a great deal of expectancy. A large crowd will be in attendance. A special train will be run from San Francisco, bringing an enthusiastic bunch of lovers of the manly art to see the contest.

One on Hart

Jack Hart is out $2, and the boys are all having a good laugh. Last week when the Dispatch was delivered at the Cecille bar, the bartender saw that 25 years ago that day, Jack Hart's home was blessed with a bouncing boy. He called Jack in and showed him the article, covering up the headline of 25 years ago, whereupon the jovial telegraph operator swelled up, treated the house, and called up his home to find out how the boy was. His absent mindedness then cost him another round of drinks.

During the last week there has been a noticeable change in the increase in travel. The hotels are well filled every night and prospects are good for a continuation of this condition..

Keep Your Temper.

Which of all the domestic virtues is most essential to a happy married life? The ability to keep one's temper, beyond all question.

There is nothing which tends more to misery, not only for its possessor, but also for those about him, than an ungovernable and unreasonable temper. No one is worse to live with than an ill tempered man, except perhaps an ill tempered woman.

Bad tempered people temporarily spoil the lives of those who associate with them. The feeling of strain is ever present. One never knows just when the storm will break, although apparently the weather, metaphorically, is "set fair." Life in these circumstances becomes a burden almost beyond bearing.

LAME EVERY MORNING.

A Bad Back is Always Worse in the Morning. Ukiah People are Finding Relief.

A back that aches all day and causes discomfort at night is usually worse in the morning. Makes you feel as if you hadn't slept at all.

Can't cure a bad back until you cure the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys—makes you feel bettter, work better, rest better and sleep better.

Mrs W L Bruce, living at 121 Seventh St., Santa Rosa, Cal., says: "My husband was greatly benefited by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. He suffered a great deal from rheumatism and kidney trouble and when first arising in the morning, he would be so lame and stiff that he was hardly able to get around. His kidneys were also disordered and severe headaches were of frequent occurence. Being finally induced to try Doan's Kidney Pills he did so, and it was not long before the symptoms gradually disappeared and he was finally cured. I never hear him complain now and feel I can honestly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to others."

Plenty more proof like this from Ukiah people. Call at Mathews Pharmacy and ask what customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

POINT ARENA AND VICINITY

A Resume of South Coast News Taken From the "Record"

Albert and Miss Mary Halliday returned below Saturday after visiting their parents and friends here.

W. E. Umphray, of Manchester, and family left Wednesday for Melrose, south of Oakland, where they will reside in the future.

James Connor and Neil Murphy were seen heading for the hills the first of the week. Whether to hunt or fight forest fires, we cannot say.

A crew of men had a hard fight to save Frank Reynolds' house Tuesday from the forest fires, and another battle royal is expected any time to protect Mrs. J. Reynolds' ranch home back of Manchester.

Principal Fred Patton is nursing a very sore hand. He scratched it in some way last week and thought nothing of it until symptoms of blood-poisoning developed. He suffers much pain but hopes that the worst will soon be over'

Items Gleamed From the "Beacon" For Our Coast Readers

Isiah Mack, more generally known as "Pat" Mack, died at Fort Bragg Tuesday from intestinal obstruction. He had been sick only about a week when the summon came. His body was brought here Wednesday forenoon and the funeral was held at Little River in the afternoon, the services being conducted by Rev. M. W. Coates.

Mary Louise Bowman, widow of the late George Bowman, died here last Saturday and was buried Sunday. Mrs Bowman had been ailing for several years and failed rapidly after the death of her husband about three years ago.

J. M. Newgard and bride returned on Sunday's Pomo. The boys gave Johnnie a royal charivari Monday evening. They were so well received by Mr. Newgard that they regretted that charivaries did not come more often.

It would seem to be a queer condition of affairs for the local mills to shut down for want of logs when there are thousands of them at the boom. The mill did shut down Thursday night because there were no available logs. It is a rare occurrence that this happens but sand bars have formed above the boom a short distance, and the logs have to be snaked into dead water with a skidder. It is probable that plenty of logs will be on hand Monday when the mill will likely resume again.

Westport, September 16--The smoke around here is almost unbearable. Beside the warm weather there is intense heat from the forest fires. The fires are doing much harm both to man and beast. Many lumbermen have lost their tools and others have just escaped by unhitching their teams and flying for their lives. The principal fires are raising in Big and Little Juan creeks, Dashiell's gulch and Mill gulch, and should a wind come up there is little telling where they will end. So far the heavy losers are C. A. McFaul and the Hardy Creek Lumber Company. The Hardy Creek Company has lost over 2000 ties.

Probate of Will

In the Superior Court of the County of Mendocino, State of California.

In the matter of the Estate of Marcelin Bataille, Deceased.

Notice for Publication of Time Appointed for Probate of Will.

Notice is hereby given that Monday, the 11th day of October, A. D. 1909, at ten o'clock A. M. of that day, and the Court Room of said Court, at the Court House, in the County of Mendocino, State of California, have been appointed as the time and place for proving the will of said Marcelin Bataille deceased and for hearing the application of Antone Regla for the issuance to him of Letters Testamentary thereon. And all persons intrested in said estate are notified to then and there appear and show cause, if any they have, why said will should not be admitted to probate, and Letters Testmentary thereon issued to said petitioner.

Wanted to Know His Name.

"Is this the automobile registration department of the state of Ohio?" The voice over the phone was flutelike and sweet.

"It is," replied the office man.

"Do you have records of the numbers of all the machines in Ohio?"

"Of all that are registered, yes."

"Can you refer to any particular number without a great deal of trouble?"

"It takes only a few moments."

"Can you tell me who owns machine No. umpsteen thousand and umpsteen?" Only she gave the actual number of the machine.

"Just hold the phone a moment." The office man returned in less than a minute. "The machine is owned by Mr. So-and-so of Cleveland," he said, then hastened to inquire: "Is there any trouble about it? An accident perhaps."

"Oh, no," said the sweet voice. "The machine has been in front of Miss ——'s home in East Broad, next door, every Sunday evening for several months, and I was just curious to know who was calling upon her. Ever so much obliged." And the receiver went up.—Ohio State Journal.

His Nightcap Privilege.

Among the many strange privileges granted by English sovereigns to their subjects probably the most remarkable was the permission given to the Earl of Sussex by Queen Mary to wear his nightcap, or even two nightcaps, if he so wished, in her royal presence. The earl was a victim of colds in the head, which, like the law, are no respecters of persons, and as he considered catarrh in the head too heavy a price to pay for loyalty he petitioned the queen for permission to wear his nightcap in her presence.

The patent conceding this unique privilege is one of the most amusing in royal annals. It runs thus: "Know ye that we do give to our beloved and trusty cousin and counselor, Henry, earl of Sussex, Viscount Fitzwalter and lord of Egremund and Purnell, license and pardon to wear his cap or nightcap or any two of them, at his pleasure, as well in our presence as in the presence of any other person or persons within this realm or any other place in our dominions wheresoever, during his life, and these our letters shall be sufficient warrant in his behalf."

About Matches.

John Walker, an English chemist, was experimenting in 1827 with an inflammable mixture for use on shipboard. One day Walker happened to rub a stick dipped in this mixture across a table. There was a report—the stick took fire, and because John Walker was no fool the match was born. The match's inventor put his wonderful invention on the market in April, 1827. The Walker match was as big as a lead pencil, and it cost a shilling a box. Because it could only be lighted by drawing it through a piece of sandpaper folded in two the Holden match supplanted it in 1833. The Holden was a lucifer. It ignited more easily than the Walker, so it put the Walker out of business. Sweden is today the home of the match industry. Sweden exports annually about 2,000,000,000 boxes of incomparable matches. But there is no statue to John Walker.—Exchange.

The Trinket Worm.

Among the novelties in nature is a small worm, called the trinket worm, characterized by this peculiarity, which gives rise to its name:

On the leaves of a wild vine, called the trinket vine, is found a small worm, which looks at first like a small piece of white thread and is almost motionless. If the leaf be taken off and placed under a glass case in the room this little thread will in the short space of twenty-four hours grow into a good sized caterpillar, beautifully colored and studded with golden spots. When matured it will climb up the glass, fasten one of its extremities to the glass roof, and, leaving the other hanging in the air, will curl itself into a variety of forms, presenting exquisite patterns for gold trinkets, such as earrings, brooches and clasps, changing from time to time in great variety, whence its name is derived.

What Fried Liver Is Good For.

A guest at an Atchison home came for three days and was still there at the end of five weeks. "I like all kinds of meat," she remarked one day as she passed her plate for the third helping, "but fried liver." That night there was fried liver for supper, fried liver the next day for breakfast, dinner and supper, and the next day, when the guest was asked to have fried liver, she packed her trunk and went home.—Atchison Globe.

His Bad Break.

"Oh, yes, I saw the man in the moon when I was a little girl," she said coquettishly.

"He must be pretty old by now, don't you think?" he remarked thoughtlessly.—Exchange.

Indefinite Instructions.

Lady (to clerk in clothing store)—I want a pair of trousers for my husband. Clerk — What size, madam? Lady—I don't know the size, but he wears a No. 15 collar.—Smart Set.

The Answer.

"'Widow' and 'window' are very much alike."

"Well, and what's the answer?"

"When I get near either I always look out."

J. C. Crome, a newspaper man of experience, arrived in Ukiah this week and has accepted the position on the Dispatch made vacant by the death of M. M. Carothers. He is an all around newspaper man and will soon make himself acquainted with our patrons and the pubic generally. His aim as a newspaper man is to print the news, and all will receive the utmost fairness at his hands.

Last Saturday a party consitsing of W. O. White, Gene Holbrook and George Johnson started out for an outing trip with the intention of being absent a week. A glance at the personnel of the party is sufficient evidence that when they return from their invasion of the wilds of San Hedrin there will be six less of the monarchs of the forest roaming at will and that many pairs of antlers decorating the homes of these famous hunters.

The Pitt Diamond.

While Pitt, the grandfather of Lord Chatham, was governor of Fort St. George in 1698 he became acquainted with a jewel merchant named Jamchund, who brought a diamond of great size for sale. He asked £30,000 for it in the rough. It should, of course, have been bought on behalf of the company, but Pitt, seeing money in it, could not resist the temptation of making a private bargain. He became the possessor of the stone for the sum of £20,400, and he was quite satisfied that he had behaved honorably when he paid the man, who on his part was also content. But the diamond was known to be worth more than Jamchund had received, and the transaction gave rise to a good deal of gossip, which in no way decreased when later on Pitt had the stone cut in England and sold it to the regent of France for £135,000. Even that enormous sum did not represent its true value. The stone was set in the royal crown of France. It weighed 410 carats in the rough, but the cutting reduced it to 136 carats.—Mrs. Penney's "Fort St. George, Madras."

Knew When to Stop.

The shrewd lawyer knows when to stop questioning, and none is more shrewd than the one who, conducting a case of bribery, questioned a man the other day who is rated high in the business world.

"Have you yourself ever refused a bribe?" he asked.

"No, but"—

"That is all," said the lawyer.

At a later time he was asked why he had dismissed the witness so soon.

"Because," he replied, "I knew by the 'but' that he was going to tell me no one had ever attempted to bribe him."—New York Times.

Compensation For Injury.

Compensation for injury in the middle ages was in its infancy. The volume of the accounts of the lord high treasurer of Scotland, just published, tells incidentally of payments made to sufferers in the siege of Glasgow in 1544. To a carter who lost his horse $25 was paid, but $10.56 sufficed for a woman whose husband was killed, a like sum being given to the owners of two broken drums.

Speculative Life Insurance.

A mania for speculative insurances on the lives of public personages prevailed in England during the eighteenth century. Warren Hastings, the pretender, the rebel lords or the unfortunate Admiral Byng answered equally the purpose of speculation, and there were also regular quotations on the lives of notorious highwaymen. Sir Robert Walpole at one period of his career, when his life was endangered by popular tumults, was insured for many thousands, and when George II. fought at Dettingen 25 per cent was paid against his return. Such speculative insurances were, however, largely checked by the gambling act of 1774, which made insurable interest a necessary condition for a valid policy.—Argonaut.

THE SAWMILL'S BOOKS.

They Needed Not an Auditor, but a Mathematical Carpenter.

Biffkins froze me with a stare. "I remember," he went on, calmly ignoring my interruption, "one time when I was hired to keep books for a sawmill way up north. 'Twas six days by log wagon from ever' place exceptin' the infernal regions, the same bein' a quarter of a mile away, straight down. The durned simpleton they sent down to Nigger Wool settlement after me had so much business with a roulette dealer that he forgot to tell me to get some office supplies, so when we got to camp I found that the principal equipment of my palatial 6 by 8 business apartment consisted of three lumber crayons, slightly shop worn, and a last year's almanac. I got some smooth pine boards and kept my books on them with chalk."

"How did it work" I asked, interested in spite of myself.

"Like a charm," grinned Biffkins, "until the foreman of gang 1 got on a drunk one night an' slept in the office an' used up fourteen pages of the general ledger fer kindlin' wood the next mornin'. The company sent up an auditor to check over my books, but he went back plumb disgusted. Told 'em they didn't need an auditor—what they wanted was a carpenter who was handy at figgers. An' that reminds me"— —Bookkeeper.

A MONSTER SKULL.

One That Was Said to Be Bigger Than a Bushel Basket.

One of the most remarkable finds of gigantic human remains of which we have any record was that said to have been made at Palermo, Sicily, in the year 1516, when an entire skeleton of unheard of proportions was unearthed by some marble quarry men. These mammoth remains measured exactly thirty-four feet from head to foot and nine feet seven inches from point to point of the shoulders.

A stone ax buried with this old time giant may still be seen at Palermo in section "Z" of the St. Isorent museum It is made of a bluish looking, fine grained bowlder and appears to be about two feet eight inches long by one foot broad and nine inches through in the thickest place. A musty, rusty looking tag attached to the relic informs the visitor that it weighs fifty-two pounds, but the general verdict is that it could not weigh over thirty or thirty-five pounds.

The skeleton was burned by a mob in the year 1662 during the prevalence of the black death at Palermo, the ignorant, superstitious people believing that it was connected in some mysterious way with the death dealing distemper. The skull of this giant, according to Abbe Ferregus, "was largely excessive of the baskets sayd to hold the bushel, being fitted above and belowe withe teeth to the number of sixty-foure, the each of which would have weighed two ounces."

Cavalier Scroy claimed to have found a skull on Tenerife that bad sixty teeth.—Westminster Gazette.

MAN'S ENEMIES.

The Small Foes Are the Most Deadly and Destructive.

In one of Herbert Wells' brilliant stories the terribly scientific and practically invincible Martians who have invaded the earth and conquered England are stopped in the midst of their victories and utterly destroyed by the attacks of microscopic foes. Infinitely small organisms, germs of diseases to which man has become in some degree immune, slay the wonderful warriors of a planet never invaded by these earth foes. What the greatest battleships and the heaviest guns could not do the unseen and unknown living seeds of death accomplish.

More clearly every day the world understands that in the life and affairs of mankind the most deadly and destructive foes are extremely small. All of the fierce mammals and poisonous serpents of Africa do not kill as many human beings in ten years as the tsetse fly slays in one. The tigers and cobras of India kill their thousands every year, but the rats which spread the germs of the bubonic plague destroy their tens of thousands. In this country the common housefly undoubtedly causes more deaths than all the venomous snakes, wild beasts, mad dogs, runaway horses and ill tempered bulls ten times over. The actual proportion is probably much higher than ten to one.—Cleveland Leader

MAN AND MONKEY.

Difference Between the Human and Animal Method of Thought.

The difference between the animal and the human idea of what constitutes "knowing" comes out nicely in a piece of work done at Clark university—A. J. Kinnman's study of rhesus monkeys, the Bandar-log of the "Jungle Book."

The monkey, following the usual procedure, learned to get his food from a box, the lid of which fastened with a key. The key, however, could not be withdrawn from the lock. After the monkey had become familiar with the device and could operate it as readily as a man could do the experimenter took the key out of the lock and laid it on the floor in front of the box. The monkey picked up the key, played with it, but made no attempt to use it. Then the experimenter took up the key, and, fifty times in succession, with the monkey two feet away watching every motion, he unlocked the box. The monkey would have starved before he imitated that simple act. He had learned to open the box by making certain movements. He had no idea of the key as an instrument in the process. We sometimes think instruments and means and causes. The animal thinks largely motions.—E. T. Bronston in McClure's Magazine.

THERE WAS NO ACCIDENT.

And the Message She Received Was Not a Practical Joke.

She was reclining in a low chair in the drawing room, thinking about her dear Willie, who had been legally her property for the space of three months, when a telegram arrived for her. Hurriedly tearing open the envelope, she scanned the contents, then fell back in a swoon. The message was from her brother in the city and read:

Will run over today. GEORGE.

Her maid at last restored her to consciousness. Her Willie run over! She could not grasp the full significance of it. One thing she would do—go to him at once. So she hastily attired herself and at length reached her brother's office, who, having sent the news, would be able to tell her all about it.

"How is he, and where have they taken him?"

Her brother stared at her stupidly.

"Oh, don't keep me in suspense! Tell me where he is."

"Where who is?"

"Why, Willie."

"At his office, I presume. I haven't seen him today."

"Then what does this mean? Isn't he run over? Is this one of your silly jokes?"

George took the telegram from his sister, read his own message, then exploded with laughter. It was a long time before he could convince her that this simple intimation that he would run over and pay her a visit was not a detestable and practical joke.—Pearson's Weekly.

The Talker.

You'll note the man who talks too much is always working round. He never seems to hold the job which some one else has found for him because he's bound to keep his tongue upon the wag and spend his boss' precious time in self bouquets and brag. He stays until his story's told and then told once again, and by this time the boss' ear is overfull of pain, and he is told to take his grip, although the boss feels sad, because he's lost his other grip upon the job he had. And yet he never, never learns, but talks his jobs away, because the habit's grown on him that he must have his say. And so he talks until he dies, up to his waning breath; he's talked his chances all away and talked himself to death.—Boston Herald.

Confessions.

The woman begged the bachelor girl not to go yet awhile. She was so urgent that the girl finally sat down again. Then the two sat perfectly still and silent, looking at each other.

"I know what you are thinking," said the bachelor girl by and by.

"What?" asked the woman.

"That, now you've got me to stay, you wonder why it was you insisted so. You don't know what to do with me or to say to me, now I'm here to stay."

"How did you guess it?" the woman laughed.

"I've felt just that way myself," said the bachelor girl, "many and many a time."—New York Press.

A Bad Hole to Get Into.

A gentleman was going round a strange golf course with a local caddie, and after playing part of the way he pointed to a rather high wall and inquired, "Is there a hole over there?"

"Yes, sir," replied the caddie solemnly; "there's the cemetery over there. Don't put yourself into a hole there if you can help it."—London Scraps.

His Transformation.

Little Harold, aged six, felt very proud when he donned his first pair of trousers. Taking his three-year-old brother behind the door, he was overheard to say, "Willie, Willie, do you remember me?"—Delineator.

All is not false which at first seems a lie.—Souther.

The Term "Copper."

While many police officials believe that the term "copper" as applied to policemen had its origin in the use of the copper badges that were formerly worn, an authority states that the word may be traced back to the Normans in the twelfth century and that it is a corruption of "catch." The Normans not only applied it to the catchers of criminals, but to the implements used in catching or holding them. There were "hand cops," or handcuffs, in the twelfth century, and the Anglo-Saxons used foot cops. In the "Vocabulum, or the Rogues' Lexicon," written by George W. Mateel in 1859, copped is thus defined:

"Copped—Arrested. The knuck was copper to rights, a skin full of honey was found in his kicks poke by the copper when he plucked him. The pickpocket was arrested, and when searched by the officer a purse full of money was found in his pants pocket."

This is the derivation of copper. There is an implied compliment in the sobriquet.—London Saturday Review.

Blood Travels Fast.

The speed at which the blood circulates in the veins and arteries of a healthy man is something surprising. All day long, year in and year out, the round trips continue from the heart to the extremities and back again. The red blood corpuscles travel like boats in a stream, going to this or that station for such service as they have to perform, and the white corpuscles, the phagocytes, dart hither and thither like patrol boats, ready to arrest any contraband cargo of disease germs. The mileage of the blood circulation reveals some astounding facts in our personal history. Thus it has been calculated that, assuming the heart to beat sixty-nine times a minute at ordinary heart pressure, the blood goes at the rate of 207 yards in the minute, or seven miles per hour, 168 miles per day and 6,320 miles per year. If a man of eighty-four years of age could have one single blood corpuscle floating in his blood all his life it would have traveled in that same time 5,150,808 miles.—Exchange.

Afghan Frontier Tribes.

There is an interesting little story in Dr. T. L. Pennell's book "Among the Wild Tribes of the Afghan Frontier" which illustrates the attitude of the frontier tribes to their great neighbors. A political officer was talking with the headmen of some independent tribes, and he asked them what part their people would take in the event of war between Russia and England.

"Do you wish us to tell you what would please you or to tell you the real truth?" was their naive reply.

"I adjure you only to tell me what is the 'white word'" (meaning the true statement).

"Then," said an old graybeard among them, voicing the feelings of all present, "we would just sit here upon our mountain tops watching you both fight until we saw one or the other of you utterly defeated; then we would come down and loot the vanquished till the last mule! God is great! What a time that would be for us!"

One Comfort.

Dick was a very clean little boy, and dirt disgusted him. One day he found a poor little starved kitten crouching in a ditch at the roadside, and he carried the wet, muddy little waif home with him. He took it to the hydrant and carefully rinsed off all the mud, but the shock was too great for the sick kitty, and the breath of life departed. Dick went with her to his mother, who exclaimed at the sight of the wet, drooping kitten, "Why, Dick, what have you done?"

"She was all mud, and I washed her," Dick replied.

"Oh, Dick," his mother said sorrowfully, "I'm afraid she's dead."

Dick looked shocked and grieved for a moment; then his face lighted up with a gleam of comfort as he exclaimed, "Well, she died clean, anyway."—Delineator.

The Tiger's Skin.

Whether its color helps the tiger in its furtive life or not, it is a royal livery that it wears. The "spoil of lions," but for their manes, have not much majesty. A cowhide may be handsomer. But a throne can ask no more sumptuous trapping than a tiger's skin, and if a jury were to be impaneled to select the noblest looking animal now in the zoological gardens the verdict would almost infallibly be unanimous in favor of the Siberian tiger. It is difficult to imagine anything more beautiful, more full of dignity and of the simple grace of strength than one of these gorgeous, deep furred brutes.—London Times.

More Cautious Now.

"Yes," said the popular actor, "I had to refuse the part. It was beyond my powers."

"That's strange," replied his friend. "There was a time when you would undertake any part."

"Ah, yes! That was when I was an amateur, and amateurs, you know, will attempt anything."—Exchange.

UKIAH, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1909.

DEATH OF GOVERNOR JOHNSON

Governor John A. Johnson, of Minnesota, died this week after undergoing an operation for intestinal trouble. He was three times elected Governor of Minnesota and was looked upon by many as the possible Democratic nominee for the presidency in 1912. His death has cast a gloom over the entire country and especially in the ranks of the Democratic party, as victory three years hence seemed sure with him as the standard bearer.

He was a man of high character, sterling ability and great promise. He was born July 28, 1861 and his parents were exceedingly poor, his mother being a washerwoman. The father was addicted to drink and was of no assistance to the struggling family. At the age of 12 Johnson shouldered the family burdens and by dint of hard work in a drug store succeeded in supporting his mother and the remainder of the family.

Notwithstanding the work, Johnson managed to attend the public school some and got a good substantial education. After working several years in the drug store Johnson saw an opportunity to get into journalism and secured an interest in a country newspaper and became the editor of it. He became a great power for good in the community and was looked upon as the leading citizen.

While editor of the country paper, there was a great celebration and the Governor of the state was billed to deliver an address. The Governor at the last minute failed to show up, leaving no one to deliver the address. The people called on Johnson, calling him Governor, and he made good by making a splendid address. Later he became Governor in reality. While a candidate for Governor, the opposition to him referred to him sneeringly as the poor son of a washerwoman, and referred to his father as a man of dissolute habits. The cruel attack acted as a boomerang and the people flocked to Johnson's assistance. True he arose from the most abject and cruel poverty, but despite that he was a man and the people recognized it and elected him by a tremendous majority each time he ran.

He was beloved by all the people of Minnesota for having given them a two cent passenger rate and for having delivered the farmers from the extortions of the twine trust. He was one of the greatest fighters ever known when he believed the public was being victimized. It is too bad that he had to die when just in his prime and when the future was so full of promise for him. He was probably more like Lincoln than any other man in the country, and would have unquestionably reached the presidency had he lived.

An instance of one of the most unselfish displays of sympathy is brought to the front in the case of Father Crowley, a Catholic priest who was struck by an automobile while crossing Haight street in San Francisco the other day, and so seriously injured that his life yet hangs in the balance.

This truly good man stands high among those noted for their good deeds. Regardless of creed or isms he has ever been foremost in all movements intended to raise the plane of morality. Not only is his work known of in big cities but throughout the west are his good deeds known. By Catholics and Protestants alike he is loved and honored, and all feel that his death would be a distinct loss to the cause of creating a healthier moral sentiment. From all classes of society there has poured into him most sincere words of sympathy and tender love.

This case is striking because of this universal expression of solicitude, and there is harly an altar, either Catholic or Protestant, througout this western land from which earnest and devout prayers have not ascended to the Throne above beseeching that the life of Father Crowley may be spared.

A cold wave is sweeping over the west, with severe frosts in Iowa. President Taft has started on his tour trying to defend the Cannon-Aldrich make shift tariff law.

For over a thousand years explorers have been triyng to discover the north pole. Now any one can find three or four old poles lying around loose.

UKIAH 25 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

What Was Going on in This Community a Quarter of a Century Ago

(From the Dispatch-Democrat)

J. R. Short, of Miller, has sold his place near there to W. K. Dillingham.

A Senatorial committee, consisting of Angus Cameron, of Wisconsin, and H. L. Daves, of Mass., arrived in Ukiah and went to Covelo to investigate affairs at the Round valley Indian Reservation.

Hon A. Yell, Democratic candidate for District Attorney, and Whitcomb Henley, candidate for the Assembly, and the Democratic candidates make preparations to "stump" the county.

John Buckingham, foreman of the Mendocino Beacon, passed through town en route to Lakeport to attend the district Fair.

Chas. Cunningham has raised the first banner in town. It bears the names of "Cleveland and Hendricks and Barclay Henley."

Seventeen newspapers in Illinois that supported Garfield are now supporting Cleveland.

The board of education censured several teachers for not attending the county institute.

The merchants in town are doing some big advertising now that the hop picker have been paid off. The principal firms are Taylor, Taft & Ambrose, C. Hofman, T. Maloney, Bransford & Gunn, F. Brunner, E. S. Ames and Marks & Cohn.

Most of the available space is being used in a poitical controversy and things are beginning to get pretty warm.

At the Christian Church

Services were well attended at the Christian Church last Sunday, large audiences being present both morning and evening and Rev. Teel delivered two splendid sermons, closely holding the attention of his congregation. Miss Palmer rendered a beautiful solo at the morning service and the entire song servcie was said to have been excellent. There were 100 present at Sunday School and the Endeavor service in the evening was well attended, Lloyd Teel acting as leader.

The ladies of the Christian church are quite busy preparing for their annual Bazaar to be held in their House of Worship Oct. 7th and 8th. Articles both beautiful and valuable will be on sale at popular prcies.

The Sunday School is well attended for this season of the year but a great rally is planned for the first Sunday in Oct. A programme will be rendered.

On next Lord's day the pastor wishes to have as many of the members present as possible. Popular themes will be discussed at both services. Good singing. Come. I. H. Teel, pastor.

An Evening of Mystery

This entertainment, announced for Sept. 24 at the Presbyterian church has been postponed.

One of the cavalrymen with the troops which camped here last night was thrown from his horse and suffered a severe fracture of the wrist. He was sent to the Presidio hospital by train this morning.

The Curved Ball.

It was not until 1878 that the question of pitching a curved ball was settled once for all. George Wright's Boston nine was playing the final series of that year in Cincinnati. The curve ball controversy raged in the city of the Red Stockings. Wright was asked to prove that a ball could be curved. He agreed to test the matter after the final game.

The Cincinnati team put up two ten foot fences about twenty yards apart, with a post between them, all on a line. Tommy Bond, a right handed pitcher, stood at the left of one fence. After two trials he threw a ball which went to the right of the post and finished to the left of the second fence. He repeated this six or seven times.

"The wind did it," said the doubters.

"Then we'll try it the other way around," said Wright. He stationed Mitchell of Cincinnati, a left handed pitcher, to the right of the first fence. Mitchell threw a curve ball to the left of the post, which finished to the right of the second fence. News of this, telegraphed to every part of the country, settled the question forever.—Collier's Weekly.

His Shipwife.

The suburbanite was entertaining a friend who followed the sea. Showing him his room after his arrival, the host noticed that there was but one pillow on the bed.

"By the way, captain," he asked, "do you use more than one pillow?"

"Well, I use one for my head," replied the captain, "and one for a shipwife."

"Shipwife! What in the world is that?"

"It's evident that you're a landsman. Every sailorman knows what a shipwife is. It's an extra pillow placed under the legs or arms to ease the position. It isn't so necessary on land, where you have a wide, comfortable bed, but it's almost a necessity at sea, where you are cramped up in a narrow berth, with no room to stretch. Any one who has been at sea for a long period knows what a shipwife is. We get so used to using one that we're not fully at home on land unless we have one. Better let me have another pillow for a shipwife, John."—New York Press.

Henry Clay's Fame.

Erskine M. Phelps of Chicago was introduced at Nice to Lord Blank of England. As he was smoking, he said to Lord Blank, "Will you have a cigar?"

"Thank you, but I smoke only one brand, the Henry Clay."

"All right; I'll order some," said Mr. Phelps.

The box was brought. It was embellished with the familiar picture of "Harry of the West." As he took his cigar Lord Blank said, "When old Clay was alive he made a good cigar, but his sons don't keep up his reputation."

"Henry Clay! Why, he didn't make cigars. He was a statesman and ranked as high with us as Gladstone and John Bright do in your country."

"I beg your pardon," said the noble lord. "I've smoked these cigars all my life, and I tell you old Clay made a —— sight better cigar than his boys do!"—Argonaut.

How Victor Hugo Proposed.

Adele, bolder and more curious than Victor (for she was a girl), wanted to find out what was the meaning of his silent admiration. She said: "I am sure you have secrets. Have you not one secret greater than all?" Victor acknowledged that he had secrets and that one of them was greater than all the rest. "Just like me!" cried Adele. "Well, come, now; tell me your greatest secret, and I will tell you mine." "My great secret," Victor replied, "is that I love you." "And my great secret is that I love you," said Adele, like an echo.—"Love Letters of Victor Hugo."

Women In Trousers.

In the pretty Alpine village of Champery, in the canton of Valois, Switzerland, the peasant women wear trousers and waistcoats in place of skirts and boleros, and the only distinguishing badge of their sex is a scarf knotted around their hair, the bright red ends of which float coquettishly over their shoulders. The women of Champery work in the open air, performing the same kinds of labor as the men, and long ago their ancestors found that they could work more easily in trousers than in skirts.

A. G. Stearns, the Wendling lumber man, was a guest at the Cecille one day this week.

BREEZY LETTER FROM UNIVERSITY

Notes Concerning the Ukiah Leaders at the University of California

If it weren't for the fact that so many festivities, both at hand and to come, are occupying our entire attention, we would be very sad, indeed. We are without a President. Ours has sailed over the seas to far away Germany to waste his good time lecturing to a crowd of German students at Heidellberg. These lectures are called the Roosevelt lectures and the gentleman chosen to give them is selected from the learned men of this country by the President of the United States. There are thousands of men of world wide fame between Washington and the University of California and it is truly a tremendous honor for President Wheeler to have been chosen. We realize all this and are very proud of our Prexie but we need him here. On leaving he left but one message to the student body and that was: "Beat Stanford in the big game in November, that is all I ask of you." We'll have to do it now just to please him.

Carroll Ruddock has joined the Calimedico Club. This is one of the best clubs of the University and has a splendid bunch of fellows. One of their most prominent members is also a Ukiah High graduate, Car Hoag.

If one were to look over the list of dances, rallies, foot-ball games etc. on the University calendar, he would doubtless wonder when the students found time to do the college work. Let it be known at all times that lessons at such times are secondary matters and are not allowed to interfere with the more important things mentioned above. Just call to mind the first verse of the chorus of that popular song, "CollegeLife," "Father and mother pay all the bills, and we have all the fun," etc., etc.

Perphaps the most looked forward event just at present is the Pajamerino rally. It is held in the Greek theatre and all the students appear in pajamas. It is an odd sight and thousands of people flock from all sides of the bay to see it.

There have been too many foot-ball games in the past two weeks to more than mention them, both Freshie and Varsity, and both teams have showed up splendidly. If the present rate of improvement continues we will certainly obey Pres. Wheeler, and defeat Stanford in November.

Newsy Letter From Elk

Elk, Sept. 8th 1909—Forest fires have been raging on Elk creek and considerable damage has been done to the Railroad Camp's bridge and several car loads of tan bark were destroyed. The logging on Alder creek was stopped two days in order to rebuild the bridge.

Wm Henderickson, the logging boss of Camp 5 and 6 has done a big summer's work, the mill pond is well filled with logs principally all from his camp.

The voters of this place want Wm. Daugherty for their next supervisor. Doc, as he is familiarly known, was raised in Greenwood and married the youngest daughter of the notable Donahue family of this place. Doc is undoubtely the strongest man on the Democratic ticket in the 5th district and if nominated the Republicans will help put him in office..

Today being pay day our town is booming in consequence. Matt Sans Kulla's hotel is doing immense business. Matt is fast becoming a Democrat. There is too much tariff on the other side for Matt. J. R. T.

M. E. Church, South

Over at the South Methodist church last Sunday the services of the day opened up with a big Sunday school. The atttendance was larger than it had been all summer, the lesson was interesting and the music good.

At 11 a. m. the pastor preached to a full house on the "Talents," and the quartette gave several excellent numbers.

At night the sermon was on the "Compassion of Christ," at the close of which one young man united with the church. At 7 p. m. there was an installation of Epworth League officers for the coming year. The following officers were installed: Mrs Elma Thomas, Pres.; Miss Hazel Puett, first vice; Mrs Louis Charlton, second vice; Roscoe Corley, third vice; Lylburn Gibson, fourth vice; Miss Mayme English, Sec'y. and Treas; Miss Edythe Hudson, Era Agt.

There will be preaching at the usual hours next Sunday by the pastor and baptising of children at 11 a. m.

Freshman Reception

The Annual Reception to the Freshmen class of the local high school given by the students of the three upper classes, will be held in Clelands' Hall, Friday evening, Oct. 1st.

Invitations have been sent out this year to include the parents, and the various committees having the reception in charge earnestly desire that the parents show their interest in the school by being present on this occasion.

The Principal is especially desirous that the mothers of the pupils be present and embrace the opportunity to become personally acquainted with the new teachers in the school.

Presbyterian Church

The following are the services for next Sabbath: In the morning at 11 o'clock the preaching service with the topic, "Conformity to Type." At 6:45 p. m., C.
